

Personal Finance Buzzin Magazine

You have been approached by Buzzin Magazine. It is currently working on a feature about personal finance and would like your help. The editor is aware that some people do not understand the key personal finance terms that we come across on a regular basis.

As a result you have been tasked with the role of producing a visual pull out (poster) that clearly and visually explains some / all of the typical personal finance terms and concepts that a confused customer may come up against.

Once complete you should vote within your class which is the best, before submitting your best attempt to BeeBusinessBee (contact details online) to be within a chance of being the winner of BEE Day 2017.
